

IB PYP Learner Profile Reading List

In order for your child to continue their literacy development and become more familiar with the attributes of the IB PYP Learner Profile, it is expected that as Bradley students work towards their AR goals, they reflect on how their books demonstrate attributes of the IB Learner Profile. After finishing each book, students should record below the title of the book next to the attribute it best demonstrates. On the back students should explain how the book demonstrates the specified PYP attribute. Students should use evidence from the text in their explanation. An example has been provided for you on the back of this form. Please sign and date below as your child completes each book and written reflection. Once the list is complete, he/she should turn in this form to the teacher and he/she will receive a certificate at the literacy assembly.

Example:

Inquirer: The biography Me...Jane shows that Jane Goodall is an inquirer. As a child, she learned all about animals by reading and studying the animals in her backyard. When she was older, she observed chimpanzees for countless hours and made the discovery that they also make and use tools, like humans.

Use additional notebook paper if necessary.
